- EDC2020 Workshop: Energy Security and Democratic Development: the case of Central Asia
An international seminar on 19 October 2010 organised by FRIDE and EADI in co-operation with the Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ) in the framework of the European Development Co-operation to 2020 (EDC 2020) project. This workshop will focus on the EU Strategy for Central Asia with a focus on linking energy security top democratic development. Has the EU been able to foster an energy security policy towards Central Asia and if so, is there a link to the democratic values the EU claims to promote? This session is meant to set the scene for the more in-depth case study sessions of Turkmenistan and Kyrgyzstan.

- Call for Papers: Development, Trade and Foreign & Security Policies: How Can Emerging Donors Make a Difference? 25-26 November, 2010 | Bucharest, Romania
The Romanian Association for International Cooperation and Development (ARCADIA) organizes its annual international conference in order to provide an adequate space for interaction among those working on development and international cooperation (broadly defined). The conference hopes to contribute to the current debates on the state of the discipline, research, policy and practice in the two areas. In order to facilitate dialogue between researchers, scholars, practitioners, and policy-makers, the conference is welcoming proposals for both workshops and academic panels on any currently relevant topic within these fields. While the panels will focus on academic debates, the workshops will facilitate discussions on policy and practice-related issues, exchange of best practices, and development of joint initiatives. EADI is a partner of this conference.

- New EADI Book: European Development Cooperation: In Between the Local and the Global by Paul Hoebink
This book analyses a wide range of hotly debated aspects of European development cooperation, such as the Economic Partnership agreements, development policy coherence and the participation of civil society organisations in negotiations with the European Union. Valuable new insights into the established aid instruments such as food aid, support for energy projects in Africa and security-related development assistance in the programmes of some smaller European donors are offered, and an overview of these new donor programmes. The role of local and regional authorities in development cooperation in the Netherlands, Germany and Spain is
